Abstract

The gaming industry is ever changing, and with it comes new players. The Pandemic has forced a once mobile demographic into a stay-at-home being, forced to figure out how the hell to entertain themselves with limited entertainment options available. Just like that, gaming became one of the most popular diversions of the last two years. February to April of 2020 when lockdowns in varying degrees were enforced globally, the gaming industry boomed and the love of gaming was rebirthed in millions across the globe.

GameCrazy is new to the party but not new to the dream. We are avid gamers who searched for, prayed for and were even willing to pay for a platform like this but to no avail. So, the dream was born, nurtured and has now been released into the wild. Ready to take our place in the industry.

But what the hell is GameCrazy? Well, It's a one stop shop. It's the Walmart of gaming.

In a nutshell –we are the 'feels like home' platform for gamers. We are gaming developers and a gaming marketplace in one. Gamers will be able to obtain all gaming-related items at one location, purchase all games including our newly developed in-house games and even pitch their game ideas all at GameCrazy!

What we're not! We're not suits putting corporate greed over a bloody awesome gaming experience.

We're not investors hoping to get in and get out once the bank account increases a bit. No, we actually live for this!

If its gaming related - We want to be the place you know to go!

Oh! and The Game to our Crazy is our token. Our platform will exclusively accept as payment GMECRZY tokens.

What was that? You see a pipe and a dream? Yeah, maybe, but we don't think so. We know the industry and we know this will work. If you partner with us, we will work our asses off, we will roll this out and we will bring this to fruition.

Now would be a great time to jump forward and check out our roadmap on the rollout planned for GameCrazy.

Our Mission

With each passing day, the digital world further expands. The gaming industry is a big part of this digitization. GameCrazy exists to provide gamers with a more reliable gaming experience.

GameCrazy is here for the players. Through our marketplace, gamers will be able to purchase all gaming-related items. Our goal is to become the largest online marketplace for games, accessories, and digital downloads while developing and releasing games to the market – and solely taking cryptocurrency as a form of payment.

The crypto cosmos is presently exploding daily. As a result, not only gamers but also crypto fans will gain from our marketplace. You did read it right. We will be accepting only cryptocurrencies as a payment option in our marketplace.

Welcome to GameCrazy

The digitised world provides a limitless scope of imagination and expansion. This allows our grassroots momentum to explode exponentially and quickly.

Most gamers will tell you their love of gaming started young. Most of us caught the gaming bug in childhood and the obsession never seems to fade. With the mania around gaming spreading like wildfire, we welcome the new blood of gamers and are excited to provide a platform where the old and new will converge, and all will feel at home.

We're gaming freaks, and if you're not one already, you will be once you see what we've got planned.

On the GameCrazy marketplace, you'll discover everything imaginable related to gaming. We're looking forward to the future with our GMECRZY Token, marketplace and game development initiatives and invite you along for the journey.

GC Marketplace

We love games, and we hate having to use multiple sites to find everything we're looking for! So we're creating a game-related marketplace with over 15,000 products, offering everything from games, to accessories, to digital game downloads.

When it's finished, we'll have one of the largest online collections for all your gaming needs. You'll no longer have to search multiple sites to find your gaming products. Everything will now be on one site, our site!

Introducing the first online gaming marketplace built from the ground up to accept cryptocurrency as the sole payment method, using our GMECRZY token. GameCrazy will become the one stop shop for gamers. The place you know to go.

Collaborations

- We cheer on from afar the gaming initiatives being developed. Anyone bringing new life to the market helps to advance the gaming world. We see game development as a key part to our GameCrazy rollout. Collaborations go hand in hand with that.
- Do you have a game project that has exhausted its resources? Near Completion and require funding to finish the project? We want to help!
- In exchange, the developer will release the game exclusively on our marketplace for a limited time before releasing on other platforms.
- We already have several partnership discussions in play and upon completion are excited to offer those exclusively to our marketplace.

GC Token

▶ Gaming and Tokens are a natural fit. It seemed only logical that we intertwine them in our marketplace. We've created the GMECRZY token so that you can take advantage of the opportunities we offer on our platform. How do you purchase products on our marketplace? GMECRZY token. Our tokens will be the only currency accepted on the GC Marketplace, and earned in some of our games that we intend to release. Imagine that, instead of earning fake coins or gold to spend on microtransactions, you earn GMECRZY tokens that you can then spend on REAL world products.

- With a total supply of only 300 billion tokens, no minting capability, burn or tokenomics, we've built GMECRAZY to be streamlined for integration into multiple platforms and exchanges.

TOKEN ALLOCATION

Game Development

We live for this stuff! Ideas, years in the making, are now becoming a reality. With four projects currently under different stages of in-house development, we are working hard to release these to market. Each with a unique look and feel, we are eager to see the market response. These will be launched as each game reaches full completion and meets our high standards of gameplay, story, artwork and feel (see roadmap for more information).

Additionally, partnership discussions are presently being negotiated and once executed will be an exciting addition to our platform.

Every single game created for release on our marketplace is only available for purchase with GMECRZY tokens.
